Trailside Galleries: Trailside Galleries was established in 1963 in Jackson, Wyoming, and opened a second location in Scottsdale, Arizona, in 1975. Today, it is the collector's first choice for the finest collection of western, impressionist, landscape, figurative, still-life, wildlife art and works by deceased Masters. "East Meets West," showcase of new works by Chinese artists including Mian Situ, Huihan Liu, Calvin Liang, Jie Wei Zhou and James Jiang, April 16–28. Artist reception, April 26, 6 p.m.–8 p.m.

7330 Scottsdale Mall, 480-945-7751, www.trailsidegalleries.com

The gallery is located at the entrance of the Scottsdale Civic Center Plaza on Main Street, just one block east of Scottsdale Road.

The Signature Gallery: The Signature Gallery has introduced three new artists to their gallery. Zane Palmer out of New Mexico creates exquisite wood tables out of alligator juniper. Randy O'Brien out of Tucson has taken decades to perfect his volcanic ash vessels bursting with color. Oregon artist Jan Van Ek depicts the equine as a creature of romance, power, and freedom in her inspirational bronze.
